Bishop, Eparchy of Kalyan

Karunya Family wishes, Episcopal Silver Jubilee greetings to His Excellency Bishop Mar Thomas Elavanal, the Chairman of Karunya Trust.

EDITORIAL

The preferential option for the poor led to the emergence of the Social work department in the diocese. The inauguration of the Karunya Trust on 1998 September 5 was another landmark in the history of the Diocese of Kalyan. Bishop's concern for the poor and the weaker section of the society is expressed through the different social development projects of the Karunya Trust and other social security initiatives. As the chairman of the trust Bishop is deeply involved in the activities of the trusts, visits the centers, and inspires us with his humble and caring character. On the occasion of the Silver Jubilee of his episcopal ordination, Karunya Family gratefully extends sincere congratulations and prayers to continue to guide us

with his passionate leadership.

Dream comes true

Bangarwadi is a tribal hamlet in Thane district with a population of 242 comprising of 42 families belonging to the Thakur community. Farming and selling of forest produce is the main of occupation of the village. During monsoon, the roads flood very often thus endangering the life of people especially the children who wade through floods with dangerous levels to reach their schools. Pregnant women and people having health issues were the most vulnerable during monsoons.

"We raised our voice for the first time in 2012 regarding this issue. Few village leaders, Mr. Bhurya Hambir and Mr. Navasu Khandaka initiated to gather people and register the traditional governance system called 'gavki.' We collected Rs.100/- as contribution from the community members for the expenses. Landowners were not ready to give their land for road construction. When Karunya Trust started their intervention program, we requested them to guide us.

They have regular meetings to support our work. Applications have been submitted at Grampanchayat. Mrs. Gita Bhasma, Mrs. Laxmi Hambir and I asked the resolution in Gram Sabha and after getting it, submitted to Panchayat samiti and Tahsildar with application." – Mr. Shivaji Bhala, one of the leaders from Bangarwadi hamlet.

"We were protesting at Tahsil office but did not get a resolution. Then we approached the media as per the guidance of Karunya trust team. Even after the issue was reported in 4-5 newspapers, there was no solution offered. Finally, a copy of 2014 court verdict, copy of road sanctioned resolution dated 15/04/2013, Gram

Sabha resolution 2015-2018, subdivision officer's visit report, application of Tahsildar meeting (19/09/2019) and Talathi 92119 report with written application, were submitted at Collector's office on 10th March 2021, Thane. They initiated the construction of the road within 2 months of submission of the documents. Presently, 90% percent of the construction work has been completed. This is an immensely proud moment for us, we are feeling happy as we did not give up and fought hard together to solve the issue. Now no more educational loss for children and we have road accessibility. This is one of the biggest achievements for us. Now all the government officials who visit the construction sites appreciate our efforts. – Mrs. Sunita Khandvi, one of the active women members from BhaBangarwadi.

Sawarewadi: Sawarewadi is a hamlet of 60 families. The villagers depend on wage labour and brick-kiln work for income. Karunya Trust has formed four Self Help Groups here. Karunya trust conducted training on the preparation of nutritional supplement powder to these four Self Help Groups. After the training, the women were interested and started preparing the powder at home. It quickly showed great improvements in the health of women and children. 15 members from SHG decided to prepare the nutrition supplement and distribute it to malnourished children. But due to lack of funds, we couldn't proceed further. They approached Karunya Trust for financial support.

Inspired by the enthusiasm of SHG members, Karunya Trust supported them. After the initial stage, all 15 members benefited with a Rs.2000 profit per person. We presented our product at Gram Sabha. Many liked it. We sold the product at Rs. 1200 profit per person. Then, we sold the product to ATMA department at Rs. 1500 per-person profit. Also as a result ATMA department has assured Food License to SHG members. SHG members have increased self-confidence to continue their business. Thanks to Karunya Trust for supporting and helping SHG members to move forward. Saillela, Mogra, Adar, Vikas - Self Help Group Sawarewadi

Group farming is the backbone of traditional farming.

“– Mrs. Suvarna Gavade, Active women from Kunde.

Lack of traditional local seeds was the main issue for the farmers of Kunde hamlet as new pests and diseases were infesting the hybrid seeds. “Exchange of seeds and storing them in the seed bank was one of the main activities that happened on 21st June 2021 where we women of Bangarwadi came together for exchange of local pulse crop seeds. During the activity Jeevan team shared information regarding importance of traditional seeds, methods to store them in the seed bank and importance of group farming. They suggested that the women can collectively take one piece of land and after cultivating can divide the final produce equally. We liked the idea and felt that women from other hamlets too will be motivated once they see the results.” – Mrs. Suvarna Gavade, Active women from Kunde. “Before the activity, 19 of us, conducted one common meeting on 26th June 2021.

In that meeting we finally decided the place, date, and variety of seeds to be sown. We took the local the landowners. We decided to opt for a completely organic method of farming. Mrs. Alka operation and sowed the seeds. We enjoyed the feeling of collective responsibility and loved the seeds from Chavare hamlet. Mrs. Manjula Pardhi took the initiative to find out the land. We planned this activity as lease land farming since we do not own land. We got two acres of land from non-tribal people. A deal was made that three gunny bags of produce will be shared with

Darode and Mangesh Zhugre arranged local seeds of paddy from Chavare hamlet. One 28th June 2021 all the women reached the field, cleaned, and weeded it. Mr. Mangesh Zhugare helped in tilling with power tiller. We added rotten cow dung manure after tillage experience. We would like to recommend this method of farming to the women from other hamlets. Now we are hoping that we will get our final produce as expected if it rains adequately.” - Mrs. Malti Wagh, active women farmer from Kunde hamlet. - From Project Jeevan

Lease land farming is the key to traditional farming.

The villagers of Kelni, Anepada, Mhaskal, Dahivali, Bangarwadi, Kunde, Mhasrundi, Poi, Belkarpada, Nalambi, Thakurpada and Chavare hamlets belong to Thakur and Katkari Tribal communities. These people mainly depend on farming and on forest produce. In monsoon they sell wild vegetables on roadside to fulfil their family's basic needs. In summer they collect forest plant leaves, flowers and sell them in Kalyan city market. Paddy is the main crop in kharif season. In other season vegetable cultivation and pulse crops are the main farming activities. Karunya Trust is actively working with all these hamlets for the last 5 years. “This monsoon also we have sown the paddy crop. Generally, our people don't have their own land for farming and take the land on lease for our paddy cultivation. There is an equal division of final yield among the owner and cultivator. That deal is done before the cultivation. The primary responsibility of input cost of cultivation is solely borne by the cultivator. After the harvest, all the leftover straws of paddy are sold by cultivator”. – Mrs. Lakshmi Hambir, active women from Bangarwadi hamlet. “People from all the 12 hamlets engage in lease land farming and number is increasing every year. We all get various benefits from it, and we do not need to buy rice for consumption.

We have the available land for lease land farming near us, it is not very expensive, and we get the benefits for the whole year. We were introduced to this method by the Jeevan team and now we have started engaging ourselves in this method of farming. The people were unsure about now to make deals with landowners. We now have more farmers joining us due to the increased awareness by the Jeevan team. There are lesser issues due to the guidance given by the team before sowing.”. – Mrs. Kamlabai Sawant, one of the expert woman farmers from Dahivali hamlet.

are happy with this result as our efforts make it fruitful. Earlier we were spending money to buy rice grains from market now we are self-sufficient for rice cultivation and consumption. In future we will continue to cultivate rice using this method as it involves low input cost various things, like crop loss, unequal distribution but due to the door-to-door awareness campaigns by Jeevan team we were convinced of the benefits. We have the confidence

“We practice all the traditional farming methods like Rabni, Bhajni etc for good yield. The average yield of paddy we get every year is 4.5 to 5 tonnes. We using traditional farming techniques.” –Mrs. Vrushali Wagh, active woman farmer from Kelni hamlet.

Traditional Method is the best way for seed conservation

The people of Kunde cultivate paddy in Kharif season, in summer season they grow pulse crops and vegetables. Their pulse crop production fetches good market value in nearby markets. “Since winter, after harvesting of pulse crops, we wanted to conserve and multiply the traditional local seeds of pulse crops so that we could share it with other villagers. Karunya Trust is working with us since last 4 years. During the meeting on 5th April, after facilitation of Jeevan team, we decided to exchange the seeds and store it at the seed bank using traditional method on 19th of April. However due to the Covid restrictions, we had to delay the program.

We have rescheduled it to a later time.” – Mrs. Malti Wagh, active woman

(nearest hamlet) to decide about exchange of seeds because few seeds we didn't have, and some of the seeds they did not have. On the decided day - 21st of June 2021 at Kunde hamlet, 17 women from our hamlet and 15 women from Bangarwadi hamlet came together under the guidance from Jeevan team. We brought some forest leaves, earthen pots, wood ash, jute rope and seeds required for seed bank. After Jeevan team described the procedure, we exchanged the seeds

Sustained struggle for caste certificates

People of Poi hamlet are hardworking, enthusiastic and take efforts in all the farming related activities. Women take lead in farming activities. The village has one Anganwadi and primary school till 4th grade. Students must travel to other towns or villages for further studies. "In our village our children are unable to avail of any schemes and scholarships offered by Schools and colleges, as a Scheduled Tribe, as majority of us and our children do not have the caste certificates. Our Thakur community members do not have the evidence of 1950 due to which we were not issued the caste certificates. Karunya Trust has been working in Poi village since 4 to 5 years and we asked them to guide us to find out the solution. We also have our own Adivasi Vikas committee through which we solve the issues of different villages collectively. After conversation with Sub-division officer regarding the issue, we gave the textbook and brief note regarding Adivasi jivanman (Lifestyle). After lengthy follow-ups we received the shifaras letter from Sub-division officer. We conducted a meeting with all the village members and Karunya Trust staff to discuss about the documents required and where to submit the application. - Mrs. Devki Ghute, one of the active women leaders from Poi. "From our village Poonam Aghan and I took the initiative to collect the for signature of Talathi, Gram Sevak, Sarpanch and Police Patil. Finally, we submitted the application forms at Tahsil office Kalyan. We could not have imagined that one day it would be possible to apply for caste certificate. We have completed all the

and we should try to make the things happen. Every problem has a solution, we just need to think seriously and collectively make efforts to find out the solution. We hope when we get the certificates, other villages will also be ready to take the same steps to get required documents and filled 78 caste certificates applications. The members collected their application process and are eagerly waiting to receive our caste certificates. We have learnt that nothing is impossible, their certificates." - Rekha Ghute, is one of the active youths from Poi.

Lavhali: I am Kavita Ramdas Thombre, a member of Rohini Self Help Group at Lavhali. Our SHG has completed 5 years. I have gained a lot of knowledge through the various training sessions in the SHG. Their business plan training has helped me to think about business and the future. It also helped me to take the decision of starting rabbit-rearing. I started a rabbit-rearing business with my savings. I asked my husband to help me. He bought me one pair of rabbits, which delivered 4 more rabbits. After six months the number increased to 26 rabbits. I take good care of my rabbits - keeping their area clean and providing nutritious food. My family members support me in my business. I sell my rabbits at Rs. 500 a pair. I feel content. My self confidence has increased. I am happy that I don't have to beg from others. Now, I am independent. Poi hamlet is famous for their Okra and other vegetables cultivation. "Every year we cultivate a variety of vegetables and sell them in Kalyan Market. Karunya Trust has been working with us and neighbouring hamlets for past few years. After monsoon, people from Chavare start looking for work outside hamlet. In one of our common meetings on 12th October we decided to plan a learning exchange event with women of nearby hamlets to share the knowledge on vegetable cultivation with the help of Jeevan staff. "-Mrs. Devki Padir, active woman from Poi hamlet. "On 18th October we 22 women from Chavare reached Poi hamlet to learn and understand the vegetable cultivation practices. We introduced ourselves and the work we do, and then women farmers from Poi explained the various cultivation methods. Later they showed us practical demonstration in the vegetable field. This helped us learn quickly. They also shared farming tips and suggested different organic manures and pest repellents. This event was

From Darkness to Light

Moryachapada: In the pandemic, our education came to a standstill. Since we didn't have smartphones, we couldn't attend online classes. We were sad because there was no study, no sports, no events. Karunya Trust realized this. They reopened the tuition center in Moryachapada. We continued our tuition and once again revised all our subjects. Along with our study, we also enjoyed extra-curricular activities. Our school teacher shared the syllabus with our tuition teacher, and it was very easy for her to teach. On behalf of all the children from the hamlet, I thank Karunya Trust for providing better education and helping us to have a better future. Vidya Vishnu Gawanda Moryachapada

90% Vaccinated Village

Sonavale: We are Swabhimani Self Help Group (SHG) from Sonavale village. We are 10 members. Karunya Trust works with us, providing training and motivation to help us be self-reliant. In the pandemic, all training stopped. The whole world was in fear and stress. Transportation was closed. There were no sources of income. People lost their jobs. Still, we SHG members continued earning, using our skills.

When Covid-19 vaccination was announced, many in our village were unwilling to take it, out of fear and misinformation. Even we SHG members were frightened to go for vaccination. Karunya Trust conducted a timely and much-needed awareness program on vaccination. As a result, all our members were inspired to take the vaccine. We decided to organize a vaccination camp with the help of ASHA worker Mrs. Seema Kishore Lange, a member of our SHG. The camp not only benefited SHG members but all villagers. Through the initiative of SHG members, 90% people from Sonavale hamlet have been vaccinated. We are grateful to Karunya Trust for guiding and motivating us to protect ourselves and others. Swabhimani SHG Sonavale
